

Brad Slabaugh

Brad Slabaugh is the General Manager and Vice President of Sales & Marketing for the Ready Mixed Concrete division of Hilltop Companies. Brad is responsible for operations, sales and marketing for the team of over 100 people that has been a part of most every major construction project in the Cincinnati region in the last thirty years.

Brad started his career at Hilltop Companies in sales, but quickly started exploring opportunities to solve client problems with innovative mix designs, new additives and materials and more effective construction processes. Brad worked his way up in the organization and has been leading the division for over a decade. He continues to find new ways to push solve the problems and meet the needs of clients, and is proud to deliver best-in-class materials for the region's biggest and most complex projects.

Brad has actively supported the construction industry throughout his career. He is dedicated to bringing talent into the industry and has led and been on the board of a variety of organizations, including National Ready Mixed Board, Ohio Concrete and the Kentucky Ready Mix Association. Brad has served as the voice of the industry to help educate legislators about the impacts of proposed regulations. He presented a compelling case to President Obama, Speaker of the House John Boehner's Chiefs of Staff as well as the Republican Whip Committee in 2011. Brad has also dedicated himself to the community, supporting many organizations, including The Boys & Girls Club, United Way and many others.

Brad holds a bachelor's degree in communications from Miami University.