"I am pleased to have the opportunity to join the Hilltop organization; and look forward to being part of building Cincinnati's and Northern Kentucky's future, as well as helping guide company management and ownership transition to the fourth generation of the Steele family. I believe business success is grounded in the strength of Company employees who are dedicated in providing best-in-class products and customer service...which aligns with Hilltop's long-standing reputation as a leader in supplying Ready-mix concrete and aggregate to the commercial construction industry."

Bryan is a big fan of Hoxworth Blood Center and encourages those who are willing and able to donate to help their fellow neighbors across the Cincinnati/Northern Kentucky metropolitan area.
